USA INTERACTIVE ANSWERS QUESTIONS REGARDING ANNOUNCEMENT OF INTENT TO COMMENCE EXCHANGE OFFERS WITH THREE OF ITS PUBLIC SUBSIDIARIES

NEW YORK, NY - June 5, 2002 - USA Interactive (Nasdaq: USAI) today released the following:

Since announcing our intention to commence simultaneous exchange offers for Expedia, Inc. (Nasdaq: EXPE), Hotels.com (Nasdaq: ROOM) and Ticketmaster (Nasdaq: TMCS), we have received a number of questions. In order to be in a position to address these questions with all of our investors, and in order to comply with SEC rules, we are publicly releasing our responses:

Q. WHEN WILL USA COMMENCE ITS EXCHANGE OFFERS?

A. Although we had anticipated commencing exchange offers relatively quickly, market reaction - including the effect we believe arbitrageurs have had on the exchange ratio - has precluded a quick process. Therefore, we will not commence any exchange offers in the near future.

Q. WILL YOU INCREASE THE CONVERSION RATIOS DESCRIBED IN YOUR ANNOUNCEMENT OF JUNE 3?

A. Circumstances may change, but we have no intention of increasing the conversion ratios.

Q. WHAT IS THE PROCESS GOING FORWARD?

A. Our announcement began a process that is out in the open, totally transparent (which we always like) and that has, we believe, an inevitable conclusion: the unification of USA, with strategies and incentives totally aligned. We recognize, however, that it will take some time for everyone involved to digest all of the information, understand all of the issues, and work through the process. This process doesn't have any kind of a locked down time clock. We have patience because our perspective is truly long term -- and, meanwhile, the businesses will continue to operate as effectively and efficiently as they have in the past. We are particularly committed to making sure that the process does not distract subsidiary management and employees from their primary mission - operating the companies.

Each of our public subsidiaries is appointing special committees consisting of their independent directors and then will hire advisors. We will work with each of the special committees, as they - together with their advisors and with the help of management and with our full cooperation - gather information and work through all of the business and financial issues so that they can evaluate the proposals we have made and, if they choose, discuss with us other possible transaction structures to accomplish the results we have described.

We'll work at this until it's done, with total patience and respect for the process and its participants -- and with the conviction that, as strong as we are now at both the USA and public subsidiary levels, we'll be even stronger when we have a structure that aligns all of our interests.
